

HPI Crunchometer Survey

Highlight from July 2009:

Absolute proof of the long awaited green shoots

No apologies for sending you an extract from a classic PowerPoint chart to accompany the above soundbite - you will have heard so many claims about recovery that we thought some hard data would be welcome!

Definite agreement that things are getting better has almost doubled (11% to 20%) and strong disagreement has halved (24% to 12%) : we just have to also remain aware that those feeling negative still greatly outnumber those feeling positive.

I feel more confident about the overall economic situation in the UK than I did a couple of months ago

If you could use a full PowerPoint copy of this chart for your presentations just ask (and credit HPI Crunchometer as the source). More from the July study will follow shortly.

